MEET OUR SPEAKER!

As a founder of PTS Advance (Principal Technical Services – 1995), Ronald Stein has developed one of the most successful and innovative family owned professional services firms in California. Known as the leader in delivering staffing solutions to the 12 major oil refineries in the state, the business has since transformed to support a range of staffing, consulting, project services, and business process outsourcing solutions to the wider Energy & Infrastructure and Life Sciences industries. Ron has proven that aspiring entrepreneurs can be successful in the competitive market environment, and is passionate about supporting others to achieve their own success.

Ron was also instrumental in convincing the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) that Oil was an infrastructure and achieved it being reported on most recently in the Orange County Infrastructure Report card, which was the first time in two decades that the ASCE has acknowledged Oil as an infrastructure. Over the last decade, Ron has become the private business spokesperson for the energy and infrastructure industries through his more than 60 published Op Ed articles that provide an education for the citizens as to what and why the energy infrastructures are the primary infrastructures that truly drives our economy.

At the 2018 Western State Petroleum Association (WSPA) Annual Conference, Ron was awarded the “President’s Award for his Tireless Efforts Protecting and Promoting a Vibrant Oil and Gas Industry in the West”. He received recognition from Jay Churchill, the Chairman of WSPA and Cathy Reheis Boyd, the President of WSPA.
